

Fragment – ageing Jesuit.

*My earliest companions came into this place of memories and slow canals and silken ways and waited for ten thousand days till hope had gone. I call their name and follow them along the crumbling quays, where all beneath is dark and wet.
One day my ship will come and carry me to far Jerusalem.
May she come soon, but not quite yet.*